6. Special Project Time (SPT)

Special Project Time (SPT) allows students the opportunity to integrate course materials. SPT is meant to be a self-contained, 30-hour experience, requiring no more than 30 hours to complete. SPT generally focuses on either (a) an experiential exercise paired with an integrative writing component or (b) a research exercise and a short integrative writing component.

An integrative, SPT experience can be based on an individual project or a group project. Once again, the individual or group completes an experiential or a research-oriented exercise, followed by a short integrative writing assignment. This should all be planned within the context of a 30-hour student expectation.

SPT experiences may be constructed in such a way that they pertain to students’ unique degree plans. For example, Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist students, Licensed Professional Counselor students, and Licensed School Counselor students might construct a SPT experience unique to their chosen disciplines. This is done in consultation with the course instructor.

7. Writing Guidelines including APA Format

All written assignments in courses at the Adler Graduate School must be in APA format unless specifically noted by the course instructor (Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th ed., 2009).

8. Assessment/Evaluation Procedures

8.1 Small group presentation (20 points)

The class will be divided into small groups. Each group will investigate and discuss two questions dealing with Anorexia Nervosa, Depression, or Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD):

a. What is Anorexia Nervosa, Depression, or Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD)?

b. How is Anorexia Nervosa, Depression, or Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD) most effectively treated?

Prepare a presentation for the class, 20 minutes maximum. You are limited to one handout that can be no more than one side of an 8½ x 11 sheet of paper. Do not use the Internet, overheads, or power point during the in-class presentation. Just present!

Presentations will be given during class on May 1 and 5.

20 points total

8.2 Special Project Time (30 points)

Compose a paper (five pages maximum including cover page and reference page) that analyzes the story from an Adlerian perspective. Use as many of the essential Adlerian concepts (class handout) as you deem appropriate. The paper should be in APA format.

30 points total, 25 for content and 5 for APA compliance.

The Dot paper is due no later than Monday, May 21, at 4:30 p.m. in the instructor’s faculty mailbox at the Adler Graduate School. A late paper will be docked 5 points.

8.3 Score on in-class, open-book examination (20 points) covering Dreikurs reading (pages 3-67 of Children: The Challenge).

Score on in-class, open-book examination (30 points) covering essential Adlerian concepts and Adler’s life story.

In-class presentation (20 points).

SPT assignment (30 points total, 25 for content and 5 for APA compliance).

8.4 Grading:
A 90-100 points
B 80-89 points
C 70-79 points

9. Attendance Policy
Students are expected to attend all class meetings. When a student is unable to attend class, it is a courtesy to notify the course instructor in advance using either e-mail or phone.

10. Participation Disclaimer
Active participation in class discussions/exercises/demonstrations is encouraged. As with other AGS courses, in this course, individual students must determine for themselves the level of disclosure/intimacy that is appropriate for them.

Whenever confidential information/material is used in any AGS course, students and faculty members are expected to observe AGS policy concerning the handling of confidential information/material. Full descriptions of these policies are readily available.

11. Academic Integrity Policy
Honesty and trust among students and between students and faculty are essential for a strong, functioning academic community. Consequently, students are expected to do their own work on all academic assignments, tests, projects, and research/term papers. Academic dishonesty, whether cheating, plagiarism, or some other form of dishonest conduct may result in failure for the work involved. Academic dishonesty could also result in failure for the course and, in the event of a second incident of academic dishonesty, suspension from the Adler Graduate School. Here are examples of academic dishonesty:

- Cheating - Intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. The term academic exercise includes all forms of work submitted for credit.
- Fabrication - Intentional and unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.
- Facilitating academic dishonesty - Intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another to violate a provision of academic integrity.
- Plagiarism - The deliberate adoption or reproduction of ideas or words or statements of another person as one's own without acknowledgment.

12. Internet/On-Line Activity
On-line components Adler Graduate School classes provide an opportunity for open and insightful dialogue. As in face-to-face discussions, there are differences in opinions concerning topics discussed. We view these differences as welcomed attribute of a good scholarly discussion. Respect for differences will also be viewed as a sign of scholarly debate.

Following are guidelines governing on-line discussions:

- Never post content that is known to be illegal. Never post potentially harassing, threatening, or embarrassing statements, as well as statements that that might be potentially offensive and seen as disrespectful in any way.
- Faculty members monitor discussion and intervene when requested or as deemed necessary.
- On-line communication presents a significant level of ambiguity, as verbal content of communication is not well supported by its non-verbal (including contextual) components. If a student feels threatened or offended by a statement made by another student during on-line portion of a class, please address the issue immediately with the other student(s) to clarify their position and your reaction. If this does not work, contact your class instructor so actions can be taken if necessary.

- During on-line discussion, follow the same rules concerning protection of confidential information, as you would follow in face-to-face discussion.

13. Nondiscrimination Clause

The Adler Graduate School is an equal opportunity educator and employer. The Adler Graduate School does not discriminate based on race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, veteran status, or physical disability in the employment of faculty or staff, the admission or treatment of students, or in the operation of its educational programs and activities. The institution is committed to providing equal education and employment opportunities in accordance with all applicable State and federal laws.

14. Learning Accommodations (including students with disabilities)

If a student in this course has a documented learning disability, he or she should tell the instructor during the first week of class. The instructor needs to know on the front end so that he or she can work with the student. The Adler Graduate School is committed to helping all students be successful, as best as can be reasonably accommodated. Documenting a learning disability occurs at the student’s expense. When documented appropriately, the Adler Graduate School makes all reasonable accommodations.
