

What is IAIP?

The International Association of Individual Psychology (IAIP) brings people together from around the world who feel a connection to Alfred Adler's Individual Psychology.

IAIP aims to encourage members' unique professional activities, but also supports good fellowship and the integration of members' individual activities into a common cause.

Save the Dates! 27th IAIP Congress July 10-13, 2017

What is the IAIP Congress?

The IAIP Congress is held every three years in a different country. At this year's Congress, people from many countries will present and discuss topics from the psychological sciences; all with a distinct Adlerian focus. The theme for this year's Congress is "Inferiority Feelings: New Manifestations and New Approaches".

Where? When? Why?

The 27th IAIP Congress will be held at the University of St. Thomas in Minneapolis, July 10 - July 13, 2017. This international Congress offers a great opportunity to network and learn more about Alfred Adler and his Individual Psychology. Congress Sponsorships are available; contact Dan Haugen (haugen@alfredadler.edu) for details.

For more information visit alfredadler.edu or iaipwebsite.org